1. Educational background with right to admission to the MSc programme in Economics and Business Administration

Applicants having completed a BSc in Economics and Business Administration from The University of Southern Denmark have the right to admission to this master programme immediately after completion of the bachelor programme.

2. Educational background giving access to the MSc programme in Economics and Business Administration

2.1. Bachelor in Economics and Business Administration (HA)

Applicants having completed a BSc in Economics and Business Administration are qualified for admission to the master programme.

2.2. Bachelor of Science (BSc) in Economics offered at The University of Southern Denmark

Applicants with a BSc in Economics from The University of Southern Denmark with profile in Business Economics are qualified for admission to the master programme.

2.3 Other bachelor degrees giving access to MSc in Economics and Business Administration

Applicants with a Bachelor's degree in Business Economics and Administration from a University are qualified for admission.

The applicant must further be able to provide proof of the by the Faculty of Business and Social Sciences prescribed language requirements.

In addition, applicants having completed a bachelor programme in Economics and Business Administration from a university have access, in some cases provided certain courses or exams have been taken. Furthermore, applicants with a professional bachelor degree may have access provided certain demands are fulfilled.

The programmes in question and the demands for specific, additional courses or exams are listed below in section 3 (Access provided certain conditions are met).

In order for a degree to be deemed as a BSc programme in Economics and Business Administration, the applicant must have a bachelor degree from a university including a minimum of 75 ECTS courses within economics and business administration. Further, the courses must cover the various disciplines within economics and business administration as well as important methods areas.

This means that the following subjects must be included with the stipulated number of ECTS

- 1) 5 ECTS Microeconomics or Managerial Economics
- 2) 5 ECTS Accounting
- 3) 5 ECTS Corporate Finance
- 4) 5 ECTS Marketing
- 5) 5 ECTS Organizational Theory
- 6) 5 ECTS Statistics
- 7) 5 ECTS Theory of Science and Scientific Methodology and Methods. This requirement does not apply if the bachelor's program is taken at a university

Annex to the Curriculum for MSc in Economics and Business Administration

8) 5 ECTS Methods for collection and analysis of data (statistics or other qualitative or quantitative methods, including mathematics or operations research/operations management. Data collection may be included to a minor extent

9) Additional 35 or 40 ECTS within the area of business economics and business administration, so that the total amount of ECTS within the subjects area is at least 75 ECTS.

3. Access to admission to the MSc programme in Economics and Business Administration provided certain conditions are met

Access to admission may be granted provided certain conditions are met for applicants with:

- A university bachelor degree which does not by default include the required subject areas in the required amount, but which either through electives or by supplementary courses or supplementary exams after admission can obtain or has obtained a content of a sufficient width and depth as defined under 2.3. The maximum number of ECTS achieved this way is 15.
- A professional bachelor's degree which from a professional assessment either directly or through electives or by supplementary courses or supplementary exams after admission can obtain or has obtained a content of a sufficient width and depth as defined in 2.3. The maximum number of ECTS achieved this way is 15.

The following bachelor's degrees give access to the master programme provided specific subjects within economics and business administration are included in the bachelor programme in a given number of ECTS. In case specific requirements for a given bachelor program are stipulated, these can be met through electives or elective modules during the given undergraduate programme. If this is not possible, the condition for access to the master programme must be met by supplementary studies after admission or supplementary examinations in the required element in connection with the study start period. The supplementary activity must be carried out while completing the 1st semester of the master program. There is no guarantee that it at every admission period will be possible to follow additional supplementary activities or take additional tests within all the required disciplines.
