

Call for Papers to the Inaugural Meeting of the SDU Workshop on Applied Microeconomics

Organizers: Christian M. Dahl (University of Southern Denmark)
N. Meltem Daysal (University of Southern Denmark)

Place: University of Southern Denmark
Campusvej 55, 5230 Odense M, Denmark
Room: U69A

Date: November 21, 2014

Website: Applied Microeconomics

This semi-annual workshop aims to bring together researchers investigating issues of relevance to current public policy. We invite submissions from all fields of applied microeconomics, including (but not restricted to): labor, health and development economics, empirical industrial organization, public finance, economics of education, economics of crime, and demography. The papers should pay particular attention to the identification of causal relationships using rigorous econometric techniques. Preference will be given to papers that are well developed yet can still benefit from group discussion. Submissions from PhD students on the job market and from junior faculty are strongly encouraged. The keynote speaker is Søren Leth-Petersen (University of Copenhagen).

The workshop will last for one day. The number of participants is limited to 25, with a maximum of 8 invited and contributed papers. The workshop program, travel and accommodation assistance will be provided on the workshop webpage.

The workshop is organized and financed by the Department of Business and Economics at the University of Southern Denmark. Participation is free of charge and includes registration, lunch, and refreshments. Participants are expected to cover their own transportation and accommodation costs (if needed).

Researchers interested in presenting their work should send an extended abstract or preferably a full paper to meltem.daysal@sam.sdu.dk no later than September 30, 2014. Notifications of acceptance will be sent by October 15, 2014. Presenters and other participants should register no later than October 22, 2014 by sending an email to meltem.daysal@sam.sdu.dk. Please include contact information and whether you have any special dietary restrictions.

Looking forward to seeing you in Odense!
