Project Management Course in English for Researchers and PHD Students

This course, which will be run three times in October, aims to provide researchers with knowledge and tools to manage a project, implement project ideas in collaboration with others and present the project. The course also provides information about where researchers at SDU can seek further help.

Project Management for Researchers and PhD Students covers the following three subjects:

1-Project Management

2-Project proposals/research grant applications

3-Management of Complex Projects

Ask your research leader about how to have the cost of the course covered. You can also apply to SDU's Kompetencefonden.

The Cities inside Us

~ Alberto Rios

We live in secret cities
And we travel unmapped roads.

We speak words between us that we recognize
But which cannot be looked up.

They are our words.
They come from very far inside our mouths.

You and I, we are the secret citizens of the city
Inside us, and inside us

There go all the cars we have driven
And seen, there are all the people

We know and have known, there
Are all the places that are

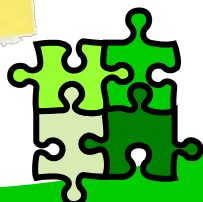

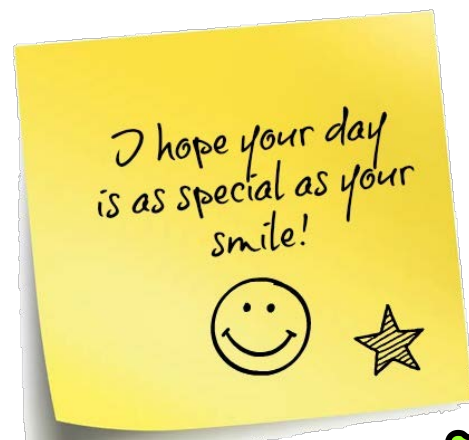

But which used to be, as well. There is where
They went. They did not disappear.

We each take a piece
Through the eye and through the ear.

It's loud inside us, and when we speak
To the outside world

We have to hope that some of that sound
Does not come out, that an arm

Does not reach out
In place of a tongue.

October 18th @ 19.30

Wine tasting evening at Odense Wine Society

Hosted by Jacob from Vinens Verden, this event will be a good starting point for all tastes and levels. The tasting list will cover whites and reds of varying styles and origins, with some cheeses thrown in for good measure...

We estimate the cost of the event will be 180 kr. per person. The price will reduce marginally if lots of people sign up, with any difference being refunded on the night.

So, mark the date in your calendar now and reserve your spot for the inaugural OWS tasting evening!
