WHAT IS SHE TALKING ABOUT?

I HAVE NO IDEA.

live to play

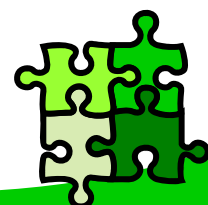

by Evelina Kvartunaite

Life is full of rediscoveries. You look at the same things in that very different light and it gives you that yet again different feeling that you know so well.

Renaissance of everyday little things. Remaking of your own theatre play. We live to play. We live to love and give and exchange and be better, be stronger, with as many beautiful scars and as many beautiful moments to keep in our own personal museums.

I know now that life is there to heal you or to tell you to toughen up. It can be very painful, but you seem to always know it's fair. Life doesn't give us excuses to be lazy. And if you are lazy for too long, you know it's only fair that life makes you work. And the beauty is in rediscovering again and again that it is so much more than just worth it. In life, fear is an intermission – it is not the play.
