

NHESG 2018 Call for papers

The Department of Community Medicine at the University of Tromsø, Norway (or, The Arctic University of Norway) is pleased to invite you to

The 39th Nordic Health Economists' Study Group meeting 22nd – 24th August 2018.

The meeting aims to bring together researchers who are working in the area of health economics and to further the continuous development of health economics as a sub-discipline of economics. Papers on all topics within health economics are welcome. Submitted papers representing various stages of the research process are expected. The conference language is English.

The usual and well-tried NHESG rules will apply. 40 minutes is allotted to each paper, and a discussant will summarize and discuss the paper. All participants will have the opportunity to download submitted papers. Access to papers will be restricted to participants at the meeting (a password will be distributed)..

If you are interested in presenting a paper, please submit a title and an abstract including the objectives, data and methods, results and conclusions (up to 500 words). The deadline for abstracts is 16th April 2018. A scientific committee will make a final selection of papers to be presented at the meeting. Acceptance information will be e-mailed before May 15th 2018.

The deadline for full papers will be July 2nd. The deadline will be strictly enforced – papers not submitted in time will be considered withdrawn from the meeting.

Best student paper will be awarded at the meeting. The award is given annually to a student who is enrolled in a Ph.D. program at a university in one of the five Nordic countries or in Estonia, or a young researcher who works with a research institute in one of these countries.

Kindly pass the information about the meeting on to any colleagues who might be interested.

The two keynote speakers are yet to be confirmed. More detailed information will be posted by the end of January. If you have any immediate enquiries, feel free to contact jan.abel.olsen@uit.no

We would also like to take the opportunity to remind you about Nordic Journal of Health Economics (NJHE). NJHE continuously welcomes new submissions – welcome to submit your NHESG manuscript as well as other articles. Please see www.njhe.org for more information.

We look forward to seeing you in Tromsø <https://www.visittromso.no/en/travel>
