

Programme	Learning goal	Performance target	Results	Improvements and actions
BSc in Economics and Business Administration	Must have knowledge of theory, methodology, and practice within a profession or one or more fields of study	95%	85%	Clear structure and use of language: At department level, address the students' insufficient ability to maintain a clear structure and use of language with clear documentation and argumentation within the written report. Evaluate whether modifications must be made to individual courses in selected profiles. Decision by the study board: HoS and Course responsible take action on the basis of curriculum maps. Changes implemented: It has been specified that the theory of science part in the course Organization with Theory of Science (1st semester) must be more dominant. Adjustments to the course Qualitative Methods and Knowledge Processes (4th semester) Enhanced focus on supervision related to bachelor projects (6th semester)
BSc in Economics and Business Administration	Must be able to understand and reflect on theories, methodology, and practice	95%	81%
BSc in Economics and Business Administration	Must be able to apply the methodologies and tools of one or more fields of study and to apply skills related to work within the field/fields of study or a profession	95%	84%
BSc in Economics and Business Administration	Must be able to assess theoretical and practical problems and to substantiate and select relevant solutions	95%	80%
BSc in Economics and Business Administration	Must be able to communicate professional issues and solutions to peers and non-specialists as well as to collaboration partners and users	95%	83%	Group work: Examine whether the programme's current set-up, giving all students many possibilities to engage in group work throughout their studies, can be improved, and whether support for students working individually can be improved.
BSc in Economics and Business Administration	Can apply methods for collecting data to describe and analyse the conditions of the company; can communicate professionally with colleagues as well as top management and external partners	95%	82%	Decision by the study board: HoS and VHoD involve Course responsible and faculty. Changes implemented: Ongoing efforts to implement mandatory study groups in all bachelor programmes at BSS-SDU incl. enhanced focus on group work during 1st semester. HoS and VHoD involved.
MSc in Economics and Business Administration	Must have knowledge within one or more fields of study that, in selected fields, is based on the highest international research within a field of study	95%	91%	None identified
MSc in Economics	Must master the scientific methodologies and tools of the field/fields of study	95%	90%	Method courses: Low scores on learning goals related to method usage will be discussed further among profile-responsible and Business Administration	as well as master general skills related to work within the field/fields of study			faculty within the programme to enhance method teaching in the different profiles and campuses. Decision by the study board: HoS and Course responsible take action on the basis of curriculum maps. Changes implemented: The importance of strengthening the students' skills within method has been specified to the course responsables of the method course on each profile.

MSc in Economics and Business Administration	Must be able to assess and select from among the scientific theories, methodologies, tools, and general skills of the field/fields of study and to set up new models of analysis and problem solving on a scientific basis	95%	88%	Method courses (see above) Clear structure and use of language: At department level, address the students' insufficient ability to maintain a clear structure and use of language with clear documentation and argumentation in the written report. Evaluate whether modifications must be made to individual courses in selected profiles. Decision by the study board: HoS and Course responsible take action on the basis of curriculum maps. Changes implemented: The importance of strengthening the students' skills within method has been specified to the course responsables of the method course on each profile.
MSc in Economics and Business Administration	Must be able to communicate research-based knowledge and discuss professional and scientific issues with both academic peers and non-specialists	95%	89%	Group work: Examine whether the programme's current set-up, giving all students many possibilities to engage in group work throughout their studies, can be improved. Decision by the study board: HoS and VHoD involve Course responsible and faculty. Changes implemented: It has been ensured that all MSc profiles contain oral exams to give the students proper possibilities to train and enhance their skills within oral presentation and communication.
MSc in Economics and Business Administration	Can select and apply advanced scientific methods and theories for collection and analysis of data to describe the conditions of the firm Can convey knowledge and discuss professional issues with colleagues,	95%	83%	Clearer guidelines: Expectations between the involved parties in student–company collaborations seem to be somewhat unclear, jeopardising the learning outcome. Guidelines should be revised. Decision by the study board: HoS and Course responsible revise guidelines. company management, and external partners			Changes implemented: The guidelines have been reviewed and found more complex to revise than expected due to the high number of different subject matters to cover. The proces will be ongoing.

--	--	--	--	--