

SPIN IN 2020

WOULD YOU LIKE TO TEAM UP WITH OTHER STUDENTS AND NEW GRADUATES IN FINDING SOLUTIONS TO EXCITING AND URGENT SUSTAINABILITY CHALLENGES WITHIN THE LIFESTYLE INDUSTRY?

We will need to work together to find new solutions for how we can manage and efficiently utilize our natural resources in a sustainable way.

Lifestyle & Design Cluster - together with the Royal Danish Academy of Fine Arts, Design School Kolding, University of Southern Denmark and Aarhus University - invite small and medium-sized companies from the design and lifestyle industry as well as students / new graduates to participate in the event SPIN IN. With the UN's 17 Sustainable Development Goals as a focal point, SPIN IN aims at solving a current sustainability challenge at one of the companies in the cluster. The challenge will be specific, difficult and suitable for open innovation - across competencies and knowledge fields.

We will form a multidisciplinary team of students / new graduates with competencies in design, economics and business development, which have technical and digital skills and knowledge of storytelling and communication. The team works at the company on one or more solutions that are presented to the company's management and to invited stakeholders.

WHAT YOU GAIN BY PARTICIPATING

- Participation in a multidisciplinary team where you use your skills in creating a concrete solution for the company
- Insight into sustainability challenges and possible solutions
- Experience with interdisciplinary collaboration and how your skills come into play
