

Global Conversations

Empowering patients with chronic and complex conditions through technology

Our second conversation focuses on how technology can assist health staff in providing personalised health care to patients and how individual patient needs and tech abilities feed back into technology development. Following the presentations, the moderator will facilitate a conversation and take questions from participants.

Time (DK)	Topic and panelist	Institution
8 am 5 pm Australian time	Welcome by Bodil Rasmussen, Chair of Nursing (Western Health), School of Nursing and Midwifery, Deakin University/Western Health Partnership	Deakin University
8.05 – 8.15 am	The use of Technology in multimorbidity: How can health professionals know who will benefit? by Lars Kayser, Associate Professorin Health Informatics, Section of Health Services Research,	University of Copenhagen
8.15 – 8.25 am	How to design future health services from idea to practice - with a topping of Care and Compassion by Jane Clemmensen, Professor at at Centre of Innovative Medical Technologies (CIMT) and Dept. of Clinical Research	University of Southern Denmark
8.25 – 8.35 am	Empowering patients with heart failure through technology by Ralph Maddison, Professor in Physical Activity and Disease Prevention, School of Exercise & Nut. Sci., Institute of Physical Exercise and Nutrition	Deakin University
8.35 – 8.55 am	Panel Discussion and questions Moderator: Mette Juel Rothmann, Associate Professor and Program Leader at Steno Diabetes Center Odense and Dept. of Clinical Research	University of Southern Denmark
8.55 am	Thank you

Date and time

27th of October 2021 at 8am Danish time, 5 pm Australian time

Registration deadline

27th of October 2021. Register here

Place

Webinar

Organiser

University of Southern Denmark and Deakin University

About the Global Conversation Series

The Global Conversation Series is a part of the ongoing collaboration between Deakin University and the University of Southern Denmark. The aim is to inspire continued development and provide opportunities for expansion of the network and collaboration and to highlight our work in international partnerships.

Upcoming Global Conversations:

11th of November: The guide to self-determination – building life skills to manage transitions in life