

Urban Resilience Intensive Training

International Urban Resilience Academy

2022

13-24 June Copenhagen

CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

Deadline for application 1 April 2022

The training is for middle and senior career practitioners, policymakers and researchers working on urban challenges to deepen the skills and competencies and learn how to apply a systematic approach to complex urban issues and be part of a global community of urban resilience professionals.

Through this highly participatory programme, you will deepen the understanding of urban resilience; and respond to the need for systemic change in tackling global challenges, for just green recovery and transition, with a specific focus on climate change.

Fee: 1.300€

Fee reductions/scholarships are available for applicants from the Global South
