

Blogging on Business & Human Rights: Towards an EU Directive on Corporate Sustainability Due Diligence

On 16 and 23 January 2023, Leonard Feld from CLS&J will co-organise a hybrid workshop in cooperation with the NOVA Centre on Business, Human Rights and the Environment on the Draft Directive on Corporate Sustainability Due Diligence. The event takes place in Lisbon and is funded by a YERUN Research Mobility Award. It brings together early-stage researchers that work at the crossroad of business law and sustainability. Participants will discuss key questions related to the proposed Directive in the form of blog posts.

Interested early-stage researchers (i.e. PhDs, Postdocs, Assistant Professors, and motivated & advanced Master students) can apply with a CV and a letter of motivation by 10 December 2022 via email: lefe@sam.sdu.dk
