

INVITATION

Inaugural Seminar

Adjunct Professor Ole Jakob Storebø

Evidence-based psychiatry: Need for development

Thursday, 15 November 2018 – 14.00-16.00 (CET)

Auditoriet, Psykiatrisygehuset
Fælledvej 6, bygning 3, 4200 Slagelse

Patients with psychiatric disorders require the best available treatment options with the fewest adverse events, necessitating that we have effective evidence-based treatments. Evidence-based practice (EBP) refers to the thorough, explicit, sensible and thoughtful use of the best evidence upon examining and treating individual patients. Successful evidence-based practice incorporates research findings, clinical expertise, and patient preferences.

On the occasion of the appointment of senior researcher Ole Jakob Storebø as Adjunct Professor in Child and Adolescent Psychology and Evidence-Based Psychiatry at the Department of Psychology, University of Southern Denmark, the Faculty of Health Sciences hereby invites you to attend the inaugural seminar with the following program:
