

7th Annual HEDG Mini-Workshop for Young Scholars, Fall 2022

Hosted by: The Department of Economics and the Historical Economics and Development Group (HEDG, @SDUeconhist) at the University of Southern Denmark (SDU)

Location: Conference Room O97 and Zoom \(Registration required for online participation only\)

Note: All presentations are in-person in Room O97 except presentations marked [via Zoom].

Date: 30 November 2022

Program

10:00-10:10	Bread, coffee, and welcome by the workshop organizer
Session 1	Chair: Anthony Wray (University of Southern Denmark)
10:10-10:50	Viktor Malein (University of Southern Denmark), “Public Good Provision and the Outcomes of The Russian Revolution of 1917”
10:50-11:30	Maja Pedersen (University of Southern Denmark), “Female Labor Force Participation and the End of the Latifundia: Evidence from Italy”
11:30-12:30	Lunch from SDU Canteen
Session 2	Chair: TBA (University of Southern Denmark)
12:30-13:10	Keith Meyers (U.S. Department of Transportation), TBA [via Zoom]
13:10-13:50	Victoria Gierok (University of Oxford), “Wealth Inequality and Taxation in Pre-Industrial Germany, 1350-1800”
13:50-14:20	Coffee Break
Session 3	Chair: TBA (University of Southern Denmark)
14:20-15:00	David Escamilla-Guerrero (University of St. Andrews), “The Impact of Violence During the Mexican Revolution on Migration to the United States”
15:00-15:40	Christian Vedel (University of Southern Denmark), “A Perfect Storm and the Natural Endowments of Trade-Enabling Infrastructure”
18:00-20:00	Dinner

A laptop is available in the room for presentations. Each presentation is expected to last 40 minutes including questions and discussion. Speakers will present for 30 minutes, leaving 10 minutes for questions and discussion. Virtual participation in the workshop will be possible via a Zoom link. Registration is required for participation on Zoom.

Workshop Organizer: Anthony Wray (@AnthonySWray, Department of Economics, SDU).