Guidelines for advertising PhD courses

How to get a PhD course announced on www

You have to fill in the application form for “Application form for creating new PhD Courses” and submit it to the Secretariat of the PhD School at the Faculty of Business and Social Sciences – phdsek@sam.sdu.dk. The application form is available on the PHD School’s website (<http://www.sdu.dk/en/sam/phddk>).

The PhD Committee will as soon as possible consider the application. You may expect the casework time to be approx. one month from submitting the application to the decision has been made. If the PhD course is approved the course will be published on the homepage of the PhD School and also on the national course portal: PhD Courses (<http://phdcourses.dk/>)

We kindly ask you to submit only one course application per form.

If you have additional information regarding the course – information not covered by the application form, you must publish it on the homepage of the Department.
