

Programme

Monday 2 November 2015

09.30 - 10.00	Registration, coffee and tea
10.00 - 10.30	Welcoming remarks Musa Shteivi, Director of Center for Strategic Studies, University of Jordan Peter Seeberg, Director of DJUCO, Centre for Contemporary Middle East Studies, University of Southern Denmark Andrea Matteo Fontana, Ambassador and Head of the Delegation of the European Union to Jordan
10.30 - 10.45	Coffee and tea
10.45 - 12.45	Panel 1: New political reconfigurations in the Mediterranean and the foreign policy challenges for the ENP Chair: Musa Shteivi Federica Bicchi: De-recognising settlements, recognising Palestine? European practices in the Israeli-Palestinian conflict Martin Beck: How to avoid walking the talk? The demand for Palestinian statehood as a challenge for the European Neighborhood Policy Amr Sarraj: Title to be announced Tamirace Fakhoury: The EU's role in Lebanon's perilous path since the outbreak of the Syrian war
12.45 - 14.00	Lunch
14.00 - 16.00	Panel 2: New dimensions of the development of the ENP: Migration, mobility and security Chair: Martin Beck Federica Zardo: Whose ownership? Exploring EU-Tunisia post-revolutionary migration and mobility agenda Peter Seeberg: Mobility Partnerships and Security Subcomplexes in the Mediterranean. The Strategic Role of Migration and the EU's Foreign and Security Policies towards the MENA-region Daniela Verena Huber: Youth as a new 'foreign policy challenge' in the MENA. A critical interrogation of EU and US youth-related policies in Morocco and Tunisia Musa Shteivi: Title to be announced

Tuesday 3 November 2015

09.00 - 10.30	Panel 3: The revision of the ENP, options and perspectives - Case studies I Chair: Peter Seeberg
	Clara Portela: Sanctions and the ENP – A focus on the Southern Mediterranean
	Elisabeth Johansson-Nogués: EU-Arab League cooperation
	Hana El Gala: Title to be announced
10.30 - 11.00	Coffee and tea
11.00 - 12.30	Panel 4: The revision of the ENP, options and perspectives - Case studies II Chair: Hana El Gala
	Anas A. Buera: Libya and EU Relations: Past Failure and Future prospects "Lessons of communicative narratives of Economic Reforms"
	Anas El Gomati: Title to be announced
	Nicole Koenig: The ENP's security dimension: lessons from Libya and Syria
12.30 - 13.00	Concluding remarks
13.00 - 14.00	Lunch

Organizers

The conference is funded by the DJUCO Partnership (see www.djuco.org) based on a grant from the Danish–Arab Partnership Programme (see www.dapp.dk) under the Danish Ministry of Foreign Affairs and will be hosted by the Centre for Strategic Studies, University of Jordan.

Musa Shteivi, Director, Centre for Strategic Studies, University of Jordan, Amman
Peter Seeberg, Centre for Contemporary Middle East Studies, University of Southern Denmark
(Director of DJUCO)

